Coca-Cola winners collect their prizes

THE NEW YEAR started on a good note for ten lucky locals who were the final winners in Coca-Cola's 'Sharing the Gift of Giving' Promotion.

Jennifer Williams was the winner of a Sony LCD HDTV. Her daughter April-Ann who collected on her behalf said, "I called my mother from my cellular phone as the prizes were being presented so that she could listen in and as the names were called she said, 'April, I haven't heard my name as yet, does that mean I've won the TV?' When she heard she'd won the TV she screamed. From the start of the competition she kept saying, 'I want to win the TV, I want to win the TV.' She's ecstatic!"
